PLAN CHANGE IN ARCHITECTURE OF CITY OF ROME

(By Associated Press)
ROME, July 16.—Rome will become a city of old appearance if the plans for the solution of the housing problem proposed by some Italian engineers are put in operation. The proposal is to build on the flat roofs of most of the buildings in Rome high houses of three and four stories.

The engineers have placed their ideas before Henry (Bill) MacLean, United States commercial attaché to the American embassy. They have asked that American capital be interested in the project. The material for the whole of the scheme, according to the engineer's suggestions, would come from America because of the adaptability of American field construction methods in the use of materials and means of assembling.

Mr. MacLean has succeeded in interesting several American business men in the project and other projects along the line of building construction in Rome.

AUSTRIA HAS MUCH MONEY CIRCULATING

(By Associated Press)
VIENNA, July 16.—The astounding amount of ready money circulating in Austria was illustrated by the recently concluded sale of the rare furnishings of Klessheim palace, one of the residences of the Archduke Ludwig Victor. It netted many million crowns and the newspapers say the purchasers were virtually all newly rich Viennese.

Many professional collectors and buyers from France, England and America came here for the sale, but declared they could not compete with native bidders who ran prices up into millions as nonchalantly as if bidding in hundreds. Dollars, pounds and francs, they said, were out of the running.

The Vienna Derby just run was another illustration of the money plenty. About 30,000 persons attended and the receipts of the betting machines alone was 4,500,000 crowns.

CRAIG STANDS BY GREAT BRITAIN

(By Associated Press)

MAINTAIN SILENCE ON RESULT OF MEETING

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 16.—What is happening behind the scenes in the negotiations of the Irish parties preliminary to a renewal of conversations between Eamon De Valera and Premier Lloyd George, next Monday, is screened by what Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, today termed "rigid silence". Sir James used the phrase in explaining his belief that everything depended upon the way the question was handled.

On the private deliberations of the Ulster premier and his colleagues is believed to rest immediate hope for an unembarrassed continuance of the Downing street conversations, in which it is possible Sir James will join Monday, although such a visit to the premier's residence would merely be for a second personal interview with Premier Lloyd George.

OFFICIALS OF ALLIES GIVEN OWN MEDICINE

(By Associated Press)
VIENNA, July 16.—Workmen of the allied military control commission in relation for two weeks have made of their co-operative bakery for arms.

The British officer in charge, disapproved by a first investigation of the premises, returned with a large force and opened a number of heavy cases. He found them filled with brass fuses used in the distribution of bread.

Next day the workmen secured warrants and went to the house of a man named Novak, a high official of the Association of Officers of the Front. They got the machine guns in perfect condition, a number of rifles, a quantity of hand grenades and ammunition.

DECLARES ENGLAND USED FOR CATSPAW

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 16.—General Sir Ian Hamilton, in a speech at Manchester last night, strongly opposed abandoning the Anglo-Japanese alliance in favor of some lesser bond which might not be strictly naval or military.

He declared England's position in the proposed Washington conference on the limitation of armaments will be that of a man being urged by half a dozen monkeys to pull their elbows out of the line and declared it to be a disgraceful sight to see the temperature of the elephants before stretching out as two.

REDS ARE TRYING TO REVIVE DYING PETROGRAD CITY

(By Associated Press)
PEYVAL, Estonia, July 16.—The Russian soviet council of labor and defense has taken urgent steps to revive Petrograd, which even the bolshewiki themselves have recently termed a "dying city".

Thousands of workmen, confronted by starvation and realizing that the matter of food distribution have recently left the city, with the result that scarcely enough manpower was left to operate what few factories could be provided with fuel.

At a session of the All-Russian central executive committee held in Moscow a few days ago, it was decided to give Petrograd preferential privileges in regard to fuel and transport to place Petrograd in the same situation as Moscow with reference to food supplies. To establish a special district from which food supplies should be drawn solely for the use of Petrograd and to enjoin all of Russia to come to the aid of Petrograd in the matter of food and fuel supply. A special commission was named to carry out the work.

It was declared that only one-sixth of the pre-war number of industrial enterprises were in operation in Petrograd. The population is said to number less than 200,000, a little more than a third of the pre-war figure.

The committee also decided to include Petrograd to a greater extent than had been contemplated in the general electrification scheme.
